Montgomery County Endorses Cut-Out

A meeting of the tobacco growers of Montgomery county was held in the circuit court room at the court house Saturday afternoon and a large crowd was present, the room being filled to capacity. Much enthusiasm was manifested and the gathering was unanimously in favor of cutting out the crop in 1921 as was later expressed by an almost unanimous vote.

The meeting was called to order by Major D. J. Burchett, who upon motion, was made chairman with W. T. Highland, secretary. Talks were made by Major Burchett, R. T. Judy, A. S. Hart, C. C. McDonald, and from the outset it was easily seen that the sense of the meeting was in favor of not raising a crop the coming year. It was pointed out that there was now a surplus of fifty million pounds of tobacco in the United States with prospects for a bumper crop this year. It was also stated that prospects were that common tobacco this year would go for less than cost of production while the better grades were expected to take care of themselves.

Upon motion, every tobacco grower in the county was made a delegate to attend a gathering of growers to be held in Lexington tomorrow at which time a vote will be taken as to the advisability of cutting out the 1921 crop.

Below will be found a partial list of the Blue Grass counties and how they voted on the cut-out proposition at the various meetings Saturday:

- Anderson, against cutout.
- Bath, for cutout.
- Bourbon, against.
- Boyle, against.
- Carroll, for cutout and growers' organization.
- Clark, action deferred until after convention.
- Fayette, against.
- Fleming, for cutout.
- Franklin, favors limited cutout.
- Harrison, against.
- Henry, against cutout, favors curtailment.
- Jessamine, against.
- Madison, against.
- Marion, no meeting held; sentiment divided.
- Mason, for cutout.
- Mercer, action deferred until January.
- Nicholas, for cutout.
- Scott, against.
- Woodford, against.

Big Crowd Here For Court Day

August court was one of the liveliest court days of the year and trading was brisk in both cattle and sheep; of the latter it is estimated that there were about 2,500 head that changed hands at prices ranging from $9.00 to $12.50 per head. It is estimated that the cattle on the market would aggregate from 4,500 to 5,000 head, all of which were high grade, good fleshed stock. Cows brought 5 1-2 and 6 cents per pound and heifers from $7.25 to $10.25 per hundred. The greater number changed hands and when night came there were very few head left in the pens. The buyers were largely county and surrounding county men, and this fact was due to the few cars that could be secured in order to ship out cattle to other states. The Mt. Sterling Chamber of Commerce has taken this matter of shortage of cars up with the roads and the railroad commission, and feel quite sure that the car service will be greatly improved by September court. We caught only a few sales made which, however, will show the trend of the market: Howard & Lacy, of Morgan, sold to an Ohio party 100 head of feeders, weighing from 900 to 1100 pounds, at 10c; William Davis sold six steers to A. S. Hart for 10c; Mr. Hart purchased quite a number of good ones at prices worth the money; Mr. Le-master sold 13 heifers, weight about 400 pounds at 7 1-2c; John Moore sold 15 heifers, average 425 pounds, at 7 1-2c; John Stofor sold to Geo. Snyder 23 head of cattle at 10c; C. W. Grace, of Magoffin county, sold 18 head of 575 pound heifers at $7.15 per hundred; M. C. Wilson sold 10 head of 800 pound steers at 9 cents; Shelb Cannoy, of Wolfe, sold 26 800-pound steers at 9c; Ben Murphy, of Hazel Green, sold 40 head of heifers at 7 1-2 and 8c. and 7 cows at 7 1-4c; H. Combs, of Morgan, sold 9 550 pound heifers at 8c and 6 400-pound steers at 7 1-2c; J. S. Adams sold a bunch of 350 pound heifers at 7 1-4c; Sam Keeton, of Magoffin, sold to Nat Young, a bunch of 500-pound steers at 8c; Ramey Stacy, of Morgan county, sold four steers, weight 450 pounds, at 8c; Letcher Byrd, of Estill county sold sixteen 400-pound heifers at 7 1-2c. There were about 7,500 people in the city and the principle subjects discussed were politics and the tobacco cut-out. G. W. Maze sold a pair of mules to go to Westfield, Ohio, at $550, and a saddle horse to a West Virginia party for $225.

The three cars of horses, mules and ponies met with slow sale, due to the fact of the small demand for ponies and the horses were not good enough for this market.

With a full supply of cars and favorable weather conditions, indications are that September court will be a record breaker.

Tennessee Will Decide Suffrage Fate Today

Predictions that the Tennessee house of representatives will have disposed of the woman suffrage question by Tuesday night were made on all sides yesterday, but whether it would ratify or reject the federal amendment was an uncertainty.

Speaker Seth Walker, leader of the opposition, said he was reasonably sure of rejection. Miss Sue White, president of the Tennessee branch of the National Woman's Party, said the issue was undecided. Suffrage leaders still were confident but the number of those who held that the result would not be known until after the house had balloted seemed to be increasing.

Smooth Crook Gave Cold Check For Cattle

A man giving his name as R. C. Westfall, and claiming Portsmouth, Ohio, as his home, posing as a cattle dealer, and who had been in this city since Friday stopping at the Bays boarding house, was arrested in Richmond last night charged with giving cold checks for cattle bought here Monday and was brought to this city and lodged in jail.

It seems that shortly after his arrival he met J. W. DeBoe, an aged cattle man of Morgan county, who had been coming to this city for years, and bought 45 head of cattle from him, giving a check in payment on a Portsmouth bank for $2,525.00. The stranger then stated to Mr. DeBoe that he desired to purchase quite a few more cattle and got him and John Gearhart, of Rowan county, to act as his agents. After securing all the cattle he wanted for which he gave checks amounting to $5,500.00, he stated he wanted to take only steers back with him and instructed his agents to sell off all the heifers which was done to the amount of $2,025.00 and the checks, mostly on Richmond banks, were turned over to the stranger. At this juncture Mr. DeBoe became suspicious and had a local bank to telegraph Portsmouth where it was found Westfall had no account and had never been heard of. The matter was then put in the hands of Chief of Police Tipton, who, upon investigation learned "Westfall" had made good his get-away, leaving the unsold portion of his cattle here. Knowing that he would endeavor to get the checks cashed, a majority of which were on Richmond banks, the Chief telegraphed that city to be on the lookout and his arrest was made in that city shortly thereafter. Chief Tipton was at once notified and Westfall was returned to this city this morning and lodged in jail.

He is said to be one of the smoothest crooks that has hit this city in a long time but he certainly ran against a snag when he tried to get out of the net laid by Chief Tipton. DeBoe's loss will probably reach $1000. In an interview with Westfall he stated he had no intention of swindling anyone as he knew where he could dispose of the cattle for a $800 profit and had hoped to sell them and have the money in bank to meet his checks. He further stated he expected to re-imburse Mr. DeBoe for all his losses. His story, however, is given little credence by officials, who believe that he is connected with other swindling schemes of a like character.

Aids to Grace and Beauty

MISS MARY

Façon de Parler!
Your manner of speaking!
Do you ever give it worthy consideration?

Have you ever seen a very beautiful woman dressed in good taste, in the very height of fashion, the observed of all observers and then suddenly she speaks and a cold shudder runs down your back as she unmercifully murders the King's English.

She is pretty to you no longer, rather coarse and vulgar.

There can really be no criterion of speech. Each country and locality has its own vernacular.

You can tell a person from the west the minute he opens his mouth by his western twang and the man from Boston is marked by the broad "r."

We all know the Southerner and his soft drawing tongue, and no matter how well educated, the foreigners will always have some marked characteristics that will brand him as an alien.

You are probably wondering what this has to do with grace and beauty.

It has a great deal, and I hope you will not be classed with the "ain't" I have got, and where have I saw you," class.

Beauty is something else besides on the surface. Beauty of character of speech and person are just as essential as a Paris truck or a perfect profile.

If you are not certain whether your speech is correct you may easily determine by close attention to a public lecture, a good play reading good books and a study of Shakespeare, who used the best English in all literature.

A study of foreign language will help you. One little realizes how hard the English language is until they have mastered one or two foreign ones. I recommend French.

I know of an American girl who went abroad when she was two years old. Stayed there until she was in her early twenties. When she returned, she was surprised to find that she spoke what she considered better English than some of her girl friends, born and reared in this country, for as a matter of fact, the best and purest English is spoken on the continent and at the English Court.

At the same time, do you think that you had to be a chatter box, with a constant flow of speech to be attractive. What is worse than a chattering woman?

Have you ever listened to her in the street cars, in the hotels and tea rooms? Everyone grows weary and flies from her circle. Cultivate a listening habit and do not speak unless you have something worth while to say.

Don't you think that is cute and cunning to swear. No man admires a woman who will curse like a trooper, even if he does laugh when she does it.

There is hardly anyone now-a-days but who has a little slang in his vocabulary. I could not go so far as to say, do not use slang, without being branded a prude, but I do say, and most emphatically, do not make your conversation consist entirely of this manner of expression, unless you wish to be considered common and coarse and prove that your education has been sadly neglected. I suppose you will think that this is a one long sermon, but I have seen so many beautiful girls spoiled by their manner of speaking that I cannot resist the temptation of calling your attention to this very important feature in the life of the American girl.

CARE OF THE MEN

Free the hair of lice by use of sodium fluoride and a 3 per cent solution of any cold tar dip will rid the house of mites and then a well balanced ration will reduce the number of early moults.

Rather odd, don't you think? Nations go armed, but Citizens must not.

Missouri Lady Suffered Until She Tried Cardui.—Says "Result Was Surprising."—Got Along Fine, Became Normal and Healthy.

Springfield Mo.—"My back was so weak I could hardly stand up, and I would have bearing-down pains and was not well at any time," says Mrs. D. V. Williams, wife of a well-known farmer on Route 4, this place. "My husband, having heard of Cardui, proposed getting it for me. 'I saw after taking some Cardui... that I was improving. The result was surprising. I felt like a different person."

"Later I suffered from weakness and weak back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. It strengthened me... My doctor said I got along fine. I was in good healthy condition. I cannot say too much for it."

KILL THE APHIS AND SAVE THE COIN

Yellowish stunted corn stalks at this season of the year indicate the presence of the cornroot aphid or corn lice. Investigations in the State made by H. H. Jewett of the Department of Entomology, College of Agriculture, shows that the lice are unusually numerous this year.

The aphid depends upon the brown field ant for assistance so the farmer should get rid of the ant by strict rotation and by not planting corn in the same field two straight years. The sulturning processes also will kill the insect if in the spring the soil is plowed deep (about six or seven inches) and this is followed by several diskings of three or four inches deep. Treat old corn fields the same way in the fall. The aphid feeds on the smart weed, crabgrass, foxtail and other weeds the early part of the spring. Nothing can stop it when it starts but frequent cultivation will make its work less successful and after the plant is 18 inches high it is safe.

Farmers Bulletin 891 covers the question of the cornroot aphid. Send for it at the Kentucky Experiment Station.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE TRAINING

In order to meet the requirements for teaching vocational agriculture in the high schools of Kentucky, twenty-eight men matriculated in the summer school, University of Kentucky, and received special training in fruit growing, farm management, vegetable gardening, feed and feeding, breeds and types of farm animals.

The State plans for vocational agriculture to set up certain standards for vocational teachers. Some of the men required to teach agriculture in high schools do not meet all the requirements as yet and the value of the six weeks' training for these men is such that each year the enrollment for these special classes is increased.

WILL THE FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD DEFINE "UNESSENTIALS AND LUXURIES?"

In view of the fact that house builders have found it well-nigh impossible to secure from banks or building associations money for constructing much-needed dwellings and other structures, since the Federal Reserve Board started its campaign of deflation of credit in order to break down prices, it is interesting to read in the report issued last week by Mr. John Skelton Williams, Comptroller of the Currency and a member of the Federal Reserve Board, the following.

"The action of the Federal Reserve Banks in restricting extension of credit for 'unessentials and luxuries' and in encouraging increased production of commodities most needed has been distinctly beneficial and has, it is believed, been a material influence in reducing the high cost of living far and wide. Although the application of the brakes seems to have had a jarring effect upon some nervous systems, and has occasioned unfounded fears of a money panic and commercial crisis, there are in our country abundant reasons for confidence and encouragement as to the future.

"Those inclined to pessimistic views as to our financial situation probably do not know or do not appreciate the immensely significant fact that our Federal Reserve Banks have at this time an unused lending power of $750,000,000, and that if occasion required the Board could, by waiving reserve requirements on deposits and notes only 10 per cent, increase the unused lending power to $2,500,000,000, which is twenty-five times as much as all the national banks of the country (which constitute a large majority of the membership of the Reserve System) were ever borrowing at any one time on bills payable and rediscounts prior to 1913, the maximum of such borrowings at any time up to 1913 having been only $100,000,000."

Now, a dwelling may be great "luxury," but we never before knew it was an "unessential." We would greatly appreciate it if the Federal Reserve Board would specifically name the things it classes as "unessentials and luxuries," and those commodities of which it has brought about increased production. Indeed, we edare the Board to try to name them and then to make it definition square with the facts in regard to deflation of credit. Come on, gentlemen, let's have your definition and not glittering generalities as to "unessentials and luxuries," which you have lessened in output, and your list of commodities you have increased by your deflation work. The public eagerly awaits enlightenment.

The public would also like to know why if there are such stores of credit still available in the Federal Reserve Board the business of the country is being throttled by the policy of the Board in forcing all member banks to curtail credit.

Possibly the Board is beginning to comprehend the terrific significance of its unwise policy of the last seven or eight months, against which the Manufacturers Record has unceasingly protested, and is trying to find a way to reverse itself. That it will reverse itself is, in our opinion, absolutely certain.

Pennsylvania's Good Work in Tree Planting Should Be Copied by Other Commonwealths.

The state of Pennsylvania planted more than 3,000,000 trees in 1919 and by so much has helped the nation. The state has a long record in this respect, as Pennsylvania's history shows that in 128 John Bertram set out many forest trees in his botanical garden on the banks of the Schuylkill near Philadelphia, and among these were Norway spruce, bald cypress and white pine. Since his day, population, needs and methods have multiplied in almost geometrical progression until what America can do shows what America must do. Palestine, Armenia and Montenegro show what deforestation means and has meant for the old world. As a matter of business administration, it is a fascinating picture presented by the artistic, agricultural and commercial improvement possible when each state zealously goes about the work of forestry in the way that Pennsylvania has done; indeed, the warp and woof of what the public can bring to pass, is wonderful beyond description.

PRODUCE REVIEW

The production of butter is heavier than a year ago; storage stocks are heavy, considering the probable outlet, and as dealers have about discontinued storing domestic production, more butter has been forced on the market, causing a drop during the week in the selling price of butter and a corresponding decline in the price of butterfat in the producing sections.

Production of eggs is somewhat lighter and some eggs are being withdrawn from storage to make up the deficiency. There has been very little change in the price situation during the week. Withdrawals of storage stocks probably will check any tendency to advance prices for the present.

Receipts of live fowl have been lighter and higher prices are prevailing in consuming centers, which is reflected in producing territories.

The volume of live springs moving this week is much heavier and this has caused a decline in prices throughout the producing territories.

You can get more amusement for the same old 50 cents admission at the Blue Grass Fair than you can buy for several times that sum elsewhere. Every other fair has increased its gate fee; not so at Lexington. Worth trying for a day or two.

SELECTING SEED CORN

IN THE FIELD

Teh department of agronomy, College of Agriculture, has found that field selection is by far the best way to select corn. You should go through your corn field as soon as the corn is matured, selecting and pulling the ears that most nearly approach your ideal for a good type of corn. What this method is practiced, you are enabled to select these ears from stalks that are upright and where the ears are not located too high on the stalk. Since like will tend to produce a type of corn in which all of the plants are more or less uniform.

As soon as the seed corn has been selected in this way, it should be husked and the ears rapidly dried. Unless seed corn is properly dried before cold weather, it is very liable to have its germinating power injured by freezing. The great objection to using corn from the crib for seed, is that when large quantities and placed together, it takes a long time to dry out. This condition favors injury by winter freezing.

AUTOMOBILE OWNERS READ THIS

An automobile manufacturer has stated that to "race," or blow one, an engine for two minutes does infinitely more harm to the machine, and amounts to more wear and tear than driving it for fifty miles. He says that every time he sees some palooka "racing" his engine on the street he thinks how he is throwing away his money, and adding to the profits of the manufacturer. According to this, there are lots of automobile owners in Mt. Sterling who are throwing away their money, as well as making nuisances of themselves.

Got Corners Mixed

The following statement is self-explanatory, but shows conclusively how badly Republicans are "getting their corners confused" this early in action:

Editor Lexington Leader:

The Leader of Friday night quotes me as stating that Louis Wiley said New York would be 200,000 for Harding. I am sure you quoted me correctly, but I don't know how I could have gotten my corners so badly confused. What I should have said was that the New York Times, of which Louis Wiley, formerly of Mt. Sterling, and an acquaintance of mine, is an editor, claims New York for Cox by 200,000, but, in my opinion, formed after conversations with a number of apparently well posted New Yorkers, the result would be just the reverse.

BUGGY STOLEN

W. T. Donoho, of near Howard's Mill, had a new buggy stolen from him yesterday. The vehicle had been left at the hitching rack back of Wade's stable, and when Mr. Donoho went to claim his property his new buggy had been taken and an old broken down one left in its place. The vehicle stolen was valued at something over a hundred dollars.

"MURRAY" FOR TICK TOWN

It is Sunday morning August the 8th. My uncle and cousin are down at the gate. Daddy is down there talking to 'em. And all of them are certainly bipe. Yesterday was the day of the judges election. And things like a lot of being perfection. We know all right we were "cheated" in Rowan. But still we can holler "Hurrah! for Tick Town."

I have mentioned Tick Town. There is Montgomery too. If I hadn't carried my own county, I would feel pretty bipe. So in spite of old Rowan, And all of their tricks, We carried Rowan's own county, "Kinney Sir."

They said all the time they would carry Tick Town. They had lectures at night, and supper on the ground. But the voters out here have as much to eat as they please. Without going to their lectures and eating crackers and cheese.

Tick Town was once called an awful rough place. But she showed what she was, in the Circuit Judges race. So Tick Town to me was a second heaven. When Dad told me her majesty was twenty seven.

Written by "A Winn Girl" of the Tick Town precinct.

SLAY THE WEEDS

The weeds are growing high and should be cut during August and this is also an ideal time for cleaning all fence rows where weeds and bushes are growing. Weeds detract from the looks of the farm and when allowed to grow, soon cause seed to be carried over the farm, when a little work in August would keep the weeds down and interfere with next year's crop. When weeds and bushes are cut, burn them. The farm without weeds is most valuable.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS

Because It's For One Thing Only and Mt. Sterling People Appreciate This.

Nothing can be good for everything.

Doing one thing well brings success.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for one thing only.

For weak or disordered kidneys. Here is Mt. Sterling evidence to prove their worth:

Mrs. L. B. Wren, 117 Locust St., says: "Several years ago I had an attack of kidney trouble. I suffered with my back, felt dull and tired and had dizzy, nervous headaches. My kidneys acted irregularly too. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them as directed. They helped me by relieving the backaches and other symptoms of kidney trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Wren had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Be careful! If a girl smiles at you, don't smile back! Please be careful what you do.—Don't smile back! She may not mean any wrong. She's but one girl in the throng.—But your wife may come along.—Don't smile.

CONTROL OF THE CHILD THROUGH PLAY

Parents seldom realize how often the child's imagination and the play instinct can be utilized in securing obedience.

Little Dick, age four, had been ill and was just recovering, so his mother was alarmed one cold winter day to discover that he had become thoroughly chilled and that his little hands were icy. In her effort to warm him up quickly she tried to induce him to drink some warm water. But Dick, who had grown somewhat irritable of late, absolutely refused. He threw himself on the floor and screamed at the idea of drinking warm milk. To try to discipline a sick child and handle such a fit of temper was a real problem, and even more than securing obedience she was interested in getting him warm. Nothing but alternate commands and coaxing had occurred to her when Uncle came to the rescue. Dick had the profound interest in automobiles, which even the tiny boy of this generation seems to have and his uncle took advantage of this fact to calm and interest him.

"Dick," he said, taking the cap of milk in one hand and Dickie's small cold hand in the other, "I want to try a new kind of gas in my automobile and see if it will go better."

Dick's screams ceased suddenly as his rage changed to interest. He allowed himself to be led into another room and seated on the couch close to a register. To be asked to drink the milk had a moment before filled him with unaccountable wrath but if he was an automobile and was being given gasoline, that was entirely different, and he sipped the milk and listened with absorbed interest to Uncle's excited comments about the improvement in the running of the "car" on its new fuel.

Suddenly Uncle picked up a blanket and threw it across the small boy's knees. "Why, Dick," he said, "you ought to have a radiator cover for this sort of weather! Your engine will be too cold to start." Not a murmur of protest followed, and a moment later Uncle exclaimed in pretended distress, "This battery is frozen. We'll have to thaw it out," and Dick obediently held out his cold fingers to the register until Uncle was satisfied that the "battery" was properly warmed.

Dick was an entirely appeased, interested and comfortable child at the end of a half hour of this appeal to his imagination, whereas the ordinary treatment—orders, entreaties, and perhaps even punishment would probably have left him exhausted from nervousness and tears.

Of course ordinarily parents should require prompt, direct obedience. But there are also many difficult situations such as the one described above when the use of tact and an introduction of the imaginative play element will work wonders and secure the result the mother desires with the least amount of wear and tear on both herself and the child.

EDUCATIONAL TOOTH TALK 7 WHY TAKE CHANCES?

Decayed teeth cause indigestion, mental backwardness, infectious diseases; trouble with the eyes, the ears, the heart, have been traced to trouble with the teeth. Why take these chances? Watch for small decayed spots, tartar, receding gums discolorations; they are a warning to you that all is not well with your teeth. The most important thing in the world to you is the state of your health; you may be ever so careful in other things but if you neglect your mouth health is in danger. Examine your teeth and if you are in doubt, consult your dentist. Dr. H. M. Wright, Trades Bank Building.

ROOSEVELT'S FAITH

The speech of Franklin D. Roosevelt, accepting the Democratic nomination for the Vice-Presidency, lines up those marchers who would support the honor and fulfill the noble destiny of the nation. His speech at Chicago starts them toward the objective. His voice is lifted in faith in his flag and in what it means to the people of his country.

With the force that carries conviction he recalled the record of the men who fought for democracy and there was humiliating truth in the picture which he drew of the shameful state into which America has fallen because of the partisan malice which paralyzed the nation's progress and weakened the national sense of self-respect through the betrayal of those who trusted to America's integrity. The way is plain. The League of Nations is as he phrased it, the practical solution of a practical situation. "It is not anti-national. It is anti-war."

For those who entertain fear that the League might call upon America for action un-American or in contravention of the national spirit and traditions, Mr. Roosevelt had a strengthening message of reassurance. As he so forcefully reminded control in any possible case of doubt his hearers the Constitution of the United States is supreme and will or divergence. "There must be no equivocation, no vagueness, no double dealing with the people on this issue. The League will not die. An ideal does not die which meets the call of the hearts of our mothers. . . . It is the faith which is in me which makes me very certain that America will choose the path of progress and set aside the doctrine, the whisperings of cowardice, the narrow road to yesterday."

To real progressives last night Mr. Roosevelt recited history to prove that Senator Harding's nominators have ignored the lesson of 1912.

In his speech of notification Homer S. Cummings said: "The Chicago platform was a series of carefully calculated compromises. Timidity and cunning are its essential characteristics. It offers no remedy for the evils of which it complains, and it seems to be the product of men who have lived for years in the blind stupor of moral negation."

As between the vivid clearness and candor of the Democratic speakers and the opaque craftiness of the utterances of the Republican platform and its exponents, the American people have an unmistakable choice.—Louisville Times.

"SET ME RIGHT TWO YEARS AGO"

Louisville Man Says He Has Had Splendid Health Since Tanlac
Ended His Troubles.

"You may put me down as one Louisville man who will always praise Tanlac, for it set me right two years ago and has kept me in fine shape ever since," said W. T. Carmen, 442 South First street, Louisville, Ky., in conversation with a special Tanlac representative recently.

"Before I got Tanlac," he continued, "I had suffered from indigestion for twenty years, and during that time I had many acute attacks that rendered me unfit for work for several weeks at a time. My stomach seemed to be weak and upset nearly all the time, and after every meal I suffered from a sour gas that formed on my stomach. Then several years ago I was taken down with a spell of typhoid fever that left me in a badly run-down condition, and my stomach in a worse shape than ever. My liver became sluggish. I was constipated all the time and had that tired, worn-out feeling. My joints were stiff and every bone in my body seemed to ache, and I also suffered from bronchial trouble.

"Following my usual custom of trying everything I heard of, when I saw Tanlac advertised I bought a bottle, and after taking about half of the first bottle I knew I had at last struck the right medicine, for there was a considerable improvement in my condition. I stuck right to Tanlac until my troubles completely left me and I felt like a new man. Since that time, two years now, I have made it a rule to take a bottle of Tanlac about every six months to tone up my system, and it keeps me in fine shape. I eat just anything I want at any time and never have an ache or pain. So I can testify to both the immediate and lasting results that came from Tanlac, and I am glad to make a public statement for what it may be worth to others who are needing such a medicine.

Tanlac is sold in Mt. Sterling by Land & Priest.

Get-Rich-Quick Bubble Bursts; Banker Arrested

Some forty thousand investors have entrusted a total variously estimated at from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 to Charles Ponzi in a money-making scheme which postal officials declared to be absolutely impossible of fulfillment.

Ponzi has surrendered to the Federal authorities explaining that he was unable to meet his obligations because of the closing of the Hanover Trust Company, where the bulk of his funds were deposited.

He was arrested, charged with having used the mails to defraud, arraigned and held in bond of $25,000 for a hearing August 19. Morris Rudnick, a real estate dealer, furnished the securities.

Meanwhile a warrant charging the Italian with larceny had been obtained in municipal court and upon leaving the federal building Ponzi was rearrested and held by the city court in $10,000 bail for his appearance August 23. Rudnick again went on Ponzi's bonds and the latter was released.

Developments came thick and fast when they started.

As Ponzi was being arraigned before United States Commissioner Hays, Edwin L. Price, who is examining the books of the Securities Exchange Company for the federal authorities, announced that it had already been shown that Ponzi owed $7,000,000.

State's Attorney General J. Weston Allen, conducting a separate investigation, made known his opinion that Ponzi's liabilities would run into the millions.

State Examiner Joseph C. Allen issued a statement declaring that the capital of the Hanover Trust Company, of which Ponzi was a director, was seriously impaired and probably wiped out.

State Treasurer Frank J. Burrell attacked the bank commissioner for not having given him opportunity to withdraw state funds before the Hanover was closed and Governor Coolidge demanded that Burrell make known how much of the state money had been tied up by the closing of the trust company. Later Burrell notified the Governor that the state deposit was $125,000.

A woman's fondest hope is to stay young. She often resorts to paints, powders and cosmetics to hide her years. Some women pay large sums to so-called "Beauty Doctors" in the belief that money will buy youth. Others wear girlish dresses, thinking they can fool the world about their age. But no one is deceived. The more you try to hide your age, the more it shows.

There is but one thing that holds old age back, and that is health. Sickness and weakness bring old age early in life. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a building-up medicine for women. It makes them healthy and strong when they suffer from women's troubles. It keeps them looking young by keeping them well. It is a woman's tonic for the frail, the delicate and those who are nervous, dizzy and who have backache and dragging pains. Favorite Prescription is altogether vegetable and without a particle of alcohol. It is safe to take. Try it now. In tablet or liquid form at all druggists, or send 10c for trial package of the tablets to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y.

Anxious inquiries at the newspaper offices and feverish conversations in the downtown restaurants indicated that the proprietors of small business and professional men and women, clerks and stenographers by the thousands accepted the bait of "50 per cent profit in 45 days."

Among the amazing disclosures was that the bulk of Ponzi's millions were gathered in after the Postoffice Department had begun its investigation last February.

In discussing Ponzi, Chief Postoffice Inspector Hal B. Moseby said that so far as their investigation had shown, Ponzi had never done any business in international coupons. He said that he had warned hundreds of people against Ponzi when inquiries began to come in last February and that no man or set of men could manipulate or speculate in international reply coupons in any such manner as Ponzi alleges he has done.

"As a result of this investigation," said Inspector Moseby, "we have obtained conclusive evidence that there has been no abnormal issue or redemption of international reply coupons, while on the other and in some countries the use of coupons has been greatly curtailed to prevent this very scheme, which no doubt has reached the ears of postal officials in many foreign countries.

"There is no mens by which a man can manipulate international reply coupons. Ponzi's claim that he had made millions in this way is simply a stupendous one with nothing upon which it can be based.

"The most amazing thing, and the thing which I am not able to understand, is why people invested their money with Ponzi. I can only attribute it to his personality—they invested in the man, not the business. We warned hundreds of people against him. Many of them heeded the warning, but undoubtedly there were many who gave him their money notwithstanding."

Ponzi, the inspector said once was an exporting business in a small way and it was probably while thus engaged that he learned the use of the international coupons, possibly having received them from abroad for repaying return postage.

The department's investigation, Mr. Moseby added, had extended to all sections of the country and throughout Europe and although he was unwilling to discuss evidence that had been collected, he did not hesitate to say that dealings in international coupons was not responsible for Ponzi's millions.

The Secret of a Superlative Tire

The whole question of a super-tire is a matter of principles. For there is nothing exclusive in the industry. No patents, no secret formulas prevent a conscientious maker from building the best.

But cost and competition modify ideals. The Brunswick idea is to pay perfection's price and get it.

That has been the Brunswick policy since 1845. And it accounts for the growing preference for Brunswick Tires. Motorists expect the utmost from a tire bearing the name of Brunswick—and get it.

You, too, will be convinced by your first Brunswick, that here is an extraordinary tire, and that more money cannot buy a better.

Better tires of their type are impossible—or better tubes. That we guarantee.

Try ONE Brunswick—learn how it excels.

WHAT SEEDS TO SAVE.

The College of Agriculture recommends, in some instances, seed can be saved to advantage by the farmer. For example, a few ears of a good variety of sweet corn may be allowed to mature and may be gathered and hung up in a dry place, thereby, insuring the farmer of having some seed of the good variety of sweet corn. Seed from string beans can be saved, if the gardener will allow a few of the bean pods to mature on the plants. These should be gathered after maturity and placed in a container where no moisture can get at them. In the case of lettuce and radishes, seed can be saved, although it is not considered a practical thing to do. As a rule, the average farmer will do well to buy his seed every year from some good reliable seed house with the exception of such cases as have been mentioned namely, corn and string beans.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE COMMENTS

The Lunch-Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on the 11th, was well attended and by far the most enthusiastic and businesslike meeting yet held. We have been told by other Clubs that if August meetings can be carried through with enthusiasm that meetings during other months in the year may always be expected to produce splendid results.

The Membership Committee, consisting of R. L. Coleman, Chairman; John Stoffer and Robert M. Trimble, Jr., had a most successful day on Tuesday, the 10th, several members being secured and members who will add considerably to the splendid bunch of workers already enrolled.

Secretary Sharp and President Hoffman are working on a booklet of Constitution and By-Laws, including an alphabetical list of members as well as classified by trades or occupations. Also it is expected to have included a chart showing the exact workings of the system under which the Chamber of Commerce was organized and will operate.

There is to be a meeting of the Board of Directors at 7 o'clock tonight at the office of President Hoffman. Several matters of importance are scheduled for discussion and consideration: The increase in the telephone rates contemplated by the Telephone Company, Express conditions, Live Stock cars, Condition of the water being furnished by the Ky. Utilities Company and better connections for some of our trains.

President Hoffman, Secretary Sharp and Treasurer Keller are, and have been, devoting considerable of their time to the work of the Chamber of Commerce (and we are glad to note that it is showing results) and which should be appreciated and backed up by every member. You are losing 50 per cent of the benefits when you fail to be present at their meetings. They are not the old "out and dried" meetings you might think but of quite a bit of interest. Make your plans to be with us the 25th.

Someone please give an expression regarding those signs of welcome suggested for the Owingsville, Maysville and Winchester pike. It will be YOUR voice of welcome to tourists passing through. If you want 'em your officers and the proper committee will be glad to give it the necessary attention.

The next lunch is scheduled for the 25th. Same place, same time and same feed. If you have a visitor with you that day bring him along; let him meet this fine bunch of Mt. Sterling business men.

The Express Company does not now bring express to Mt. Sterling on either of the night trains. Did you know, however, that you could have your package sent from Louisville (if sent before 4 o'clock) by FREIGHT and you could have it the next morning at 7 o'clock? The only express now coming into Mt. Sterling from the West is at 12:15. We hope to have this changed but, in the meantime, those of you in a rush for a shipment could very well use this freight line.

Happenings of the past month:
R. R. Fares—Increased.
Pullman Fares—Increased.
Freight Rates—Increased.
Express Rates—Increased.
R. R. Salaries—Increased.
Express Salaries—Increased.
While Chamber of Commerce of Mt. Sterling AND Montgomery County dues—Reduced.

Chairman Senff, of the Transportation Committee, is expected to visit Frankfort and Louisville this week to talk with the Interstate Commerce Commission and the American Express Co's heads concerning matters of much importance to the Chamber of Commerce. You will want to hear his report at our next meeting so see Treasurer Keller, hand him that 75 cents and get YOUR "meal ticket" and thus relieve him of considerable work in having to look you-all up. Yes, RIGHT NOW.
